

888 Co-operative Causeway

Social economy member network

Do you want to join a community of mutual support?

Our members are all individuals and enterprises focussed on creating social, cultural and economic value for each other, the Victorian community and beyond.

Our members include:

- Business Council of Co-operatives and Mutuals
- Co-operative Bonds
- Sorted.
- Community Services and Health Industry Training Board Victoria

Deskpace

Are you looking for a city HQ?

Located in the 1920s, palazzo-style Causeway House we provide quiet deskpace with wi-fi right in the heart of the Melbourne CBD. Perfect for social entrepreneurs and small enterprises.

Because members contribute to the running of the co-op they also benefit economically. Our desk and office space offers much lower prices than full service co-working spaces.

Basil's Table

Connect with social economy leaders

The Co-operative Causeway hosts a regular interview series at the Kelvin Club featuring emerging as well as seasoned social economy leaders conducted by co-op Patron Basil Varghese, a Melbourne-based community builder and social justice advocate. Previous speakers include Melina Morrison, CEO of the Business Council of Co-operatives and Mutuals, Dan Musil, Secretary of Earthworker Co-operative and Rowan Dowland, Chief Strategy Officer of Bank Australia.

Kelvin Club affiliation

Do you need a better place to meet?

Our deskpace members also enjoy the benefit of co-operative corporate group membership at the Kelvin Club in Melbourne Place. Meet with colleagues, host an event or just unwind at this quirky and treasured Victorian institution.

The Co-operative Way podcast

Learn more about the social and solidarity economy

Our podcast series interviews social economy leaders and practitioners based in Australia and across the globe.

Shared ownership - shared benefit

All members have a vote at general meetings, the opportunity to stand for board election and a say on the strategy and development of our co-operative.
